Dear Families,

We are into the home stretch now for 2015. I hope everyone had a good break I certainly did!

Thanks Kimberly for the great job over the holidays preparing the classrooms for our return.

I could not let the opportunity pass without once again thanking the teachers and Education Support staff for the amazing work they do here. Not only in the tireless preparation of learning activities for your children, but also in all those extra gifts they bring each day; their consideration for your children, their support through tough times, their willingness to give up their own family time so that the students at San Remo PS have the great events that the children clearly enjoy such as the school production last term.

Congratulations to the San Remo Primary School family. Last term’s school production A Swinging Summertime was a huge hit. I am still receiving amazing feedback from different people in the community. It certainly was a crowd pleaser. Tess at the rec centre sang the praises for all those people who cleaned up the rec centre.

This term we have had three new families join us. So a big San Remo PS welcome to Angus and Eliza, Noah and Emily and Rob. Roz is on LSL for two weeks so lovely Nada is helping out in the office.

Thank you to Mrs. Gifford-Cox for leading the school in my absence and the successful selling and removal of “The Shed”. The buyer removed the stumps last night to complete this task. At the end of last term we also managed to secure some new chairs for the 3-4 area.

Swimming starts for the junior school Friday week. This will be a busy time for the prep/one/two students. If you are able to support this program by helping students getting changed it would be greatly appreciated. Please let Tracey or Rusty know if you are available to help.

Miss Truscio, Mrs. Gifford-Cox, Marcel’s dad and I are off to Melbourne next week for the grade five/six Melbourne Camp. This is a fantastic camp that is go, go, and go. Expect some weary campers upon our return.

Something for everyone to look forward to in the very near future. A small group of grade three and four girls are very concerned about the African elephant becoming extinct. We met yesterday to develop a project to raise funds to support this very worthy cause. I can’t say too much as we are in the early stages of the planning. However, Jaycee, Ella, Trinity, Tess and Tilly have some great ideas that I am sure the whole school will support.

HATS: all students must now wear a sun smart hat for the duration of term four as part of the San Remo Primary School Council Sun Smart Policy.
